

AN INTRODUCTION TO URBAN DESIGN

- Weds 19th January 2011, 6pm - 9pm
at Tindlemanor, 52-54 Featherstone Street, London EC1Y 8RT

This three hour workshop is an interactive session where you will be taken through the basic principles of urban design and masterplanning, from how to read maps and masterplans to re-designing a famous part of our city into your vision for the future, giving you a chance to get creative!

FREE to members of Women's Design Service and Women's Design Group Members, £40 non-members

women's design service

This training is being offered to women as part of Women's Design Service's Women's Design Groups project for women in London who want to become more involved in the planning and design of their local neighbourhoods and is being funded by London Councils. For more information go to www.wds.org.uk

BOOKING FORM

Name:

Address:

Email:

Telephone number:

What is your membership status?

- I am a member of Women's Design Service
- I would like to join and enclose a membership form (available at www.wds.org.uk/www/members.htm)
- I am not a member and enclose payment for £40
(cheque payable to Women's Design Service)

Please tell us about any access requirements you have:

Please return completed form to: hcarty@wds.org.uk or by post to Women's Design Service, Tindlemanor, 52-54 Featherstone Street, London EC1Y 8RT by Friday 14th January

